Very Important Rules of Bulk Messaging and Telegram Advertisement

This kind of advertisement is different from SMS advertisements. For this, you need a good collection of phone numbers or Telegram IDs, and you need to write the contents of your message carefully. Why?

Consider a situation in which you send some ads that are targeted for women, to a group of men! There is a high chance that they recipients of these messages report you to; If you get reported, Telegram will become sensitive to your phone numbers, actions, and your advertising messages, and it might lead to blocking your actions! Therefore, you need to think about your advertising campaign in Telegram and not just send a single message to all the accounts you can reach.

About the numbers or IDs

If you don't have any information about the numbers you have (you don't know the owners' gender, age, fields of work, or areas of interest), it's better to avoid sending them your advertisement messages, because there is a high risk of them reporting you. In our package, you have access to the "Extract Group Members' Info Macro," which can be used to gather all the IDs and accounts that are interested in a specific subject.

About the Contents of the Message

Begin your messages politely and friendly, offer discounts or special services, and, if possible, use the name of the recipient the message, and _always tell them how you found their numbers_. Most of the people (and especially women) consider their numbers private, and not mentioning the source of your information will highly increase the chance of you getting reported.

Sample: Hello, Mr. Snow! I've got your number from … and if you are no longer associated with them, I apologize for the inconvenience.

Once you've found the appropriate numbers or IDs, and after you've made an appropriate message

Be sure to follow these guidelines in bulk messaging

1. Never open all of the Virtual Phone Numbers at the same time (the maximum number is 5). After you've finished using one Virtual Number, close the Telegram application from the system tray.
2. It's better not to use proxy software like Psyphon, Freegate, or HotspotShield when you are sending bulk messages to phone numbers (you can freely use dedicated VPNs or proxies). The less well known they are, the better.
3. With each line, you should only send messages to 50 people. Never go over this amount. But, in our experience, we recommend you send messages to at most 25 people.
4. Use the Macros that forward the messages (we did use the direct sending of bulk messages in our tutorial video, but they might face some issues if used on a large scale). Telegram is not sensitive about the messages that are being forwarded and considers this, a daily routine action. Watch the tutorial, test with the direct sending macros, and then use the Forward versions to send bulk messages. The usage of all the Macros are similar, and the only difference is that in using the forward versions, you need to insert your advertisement contents in your Saved Messages. It's better if you compose the message in the Saved Messages, and don't forward it from your channel.

5. If you have long messages and a lot of images or videos, you can use telegra.ph to compose and then send them. Then try you write a beautiful message with appropriate and relevant emojis.
6. The name and ID of the lines you use for advertisements must be unique. The Profile image of the lines however, can be the same.
7. If it's possible, don't use the address or ID of your channel directly in the messages, and try to insert them indirectly, using the Telegraph method.
8. It's better if you change the IP address of your system (using the proxy servers), for every 2 or 3 lines.

If you want to pause the execution of the Robot, you can use the F2 key; pressing the same (F2) key will continue the execution of the Robot. Also, to completely stop the execution of the Robot, you can use the F3 key.

About the following tips and tricks

We do not judge or recommend the following tricks, but in order for this article to be complete, we should mention them:

Before you use these tricks, you need a good Profile Picture and a good name for your account.

1. Send some messages that only contain some greetings, like a simple "Hello" or "Good day to you". Wait a couple of hours or a day to get a response. Just like that, you will get some accounts to which you can send messages with no restrictions.
2. Join (a lot of) groups and use the "Send Bulk Messages Into the Groups" macro, and ask a technical question, and ask the members that if they know the answer to the questions, send you a private message. If your profile is attractive and the question you're asking is simple enough, you will attract a lot of people. And since they have initiated the chats, there will be no restrictions to sending them messages.

Following these guidelines and recommendations, most of our clients have been sending successful Telegram advertisements (which are way more affordable than other advertisement methods). We strongly urge you to do the same and increase your chances of a successful Telegram advertisement.
